About the Author

Shannon Sue Dunlap lives in hot and humid Houston, Texas, where she writes laugh-out-loud romances with a happy ending guarantee. When she's not writing, she teaches music at a Title 1 charter school to PK3 - 2nd Grade. Shannon is a die-hard fan of happy endings and believes God has designed one for each of us.

Her inspiration comes from everywhere—including her travels, adorable students, and the fun and flirty Korean dramas she enjoys watching. Even in the hard times, there's humor to be found, and Shannon tries to infuse every story with moments that bring a good chuckle or an all-out belly laugh.
